

Room Alert Overview

Environment factors can cause major problems for your critical facilities and assets. Temperature, humidity, flood, power, smoke, and other environmental conditions can negatively affect data centers, warehouses, manufacturing, and facilities of all types. Even a slight change in temperature or humidity, or the introduction of water or smoke, can spell disaster for valuable equipment, property, or the business.

AVTECH has spent more than the last 30 years providing solutions that proactively monitor the environment and help warn of changes that might cause problems. Our products are helping protect facilities in over 185 countries, 98% of the Fortune 1000, the United Nations, Pentagon, FBI, and thousands of other facilities worldwide. You can trust Room Alert to help protect your critical facilities and assets.

RoomAlert

Room Alert monitors environmental conditions such as temperature, humidity, power, flood/water leakage, smoke/fire, air flow, room entry, motion and more. With multiple models available, there are options available for any size or type of facility. Room Alert provides immediate notification of environment changes, logging and reporting to identify trends, and some models can even trigger actions to help mitigate the introduction of unwanted environment factors.

Sensors

AVTECH offers a wide range of sensors to monitor any number of environment conditions. No matter what type of facility you have, sensors combined with Room Alert monitors can protect your most important assets. Our sensors include:

- Digital Temperature
- Digital Outdoor Temperature
- Digital Fluid Temperature
- Digital Humidity
- Digital Active Power
- Main / UPS Power
- Current Loops (Amperage)
- Flood / Water Leakage
- Heat Index (Feels Like)
- Dew Point
- Smoke / Fire
- Fuel / Water Tank Level
- Air Flow, Sound, Light
- Motion, Room Entry

Room Alert Account

Monitor unlimited Room Alert devices easily and effectively with AVTECH's RoomAlert.com Account service. RoomAlert.com is accessed through any internet-accessible device. This enables our customers to see the status of their most important facilities and assets from anywhere at any time. Define reports on historical data, track trends, set up custom alerts, view map locations, and much more at the office, at home, or on the road with RoomAlert.com.

